PATIENT RECORD OF DISCLOSURES

In general, the HIPAA privacy rule gives individuals the right to request a restriction on uses and disclosures of their protected health information (PHI). The individual is also provided the right to request confidential communications or that a communication of PHI be made by alternative means, such as sending correspondence to the individual's office instead of the individual's home.

I wish to be contacted in the following manner (check all that apply):

- Cell/Home phone (____) _____
- OK to leave message with detailed information
 - Leave message with call-back number only

- Written Communication:
- OK to mail to my home address
 - OK to mail to my work/office
 - OK to email to _____
 - OK to fax to this number (____) _____

- Work telephone (____) _____
- OK to leave message with detailed information
 - Leave message with call-back number only

- Other:
- OK to discuss my health care with _____
 - OK to _____

The Privacy Rule generally requires healthcare providers steps to limit the use of disclosure of, and requests for PHI to the minimum necessary to accomplish the intended purpose. These provisions do not apply to uses or disclosures made pursuant to an authorization requested by the individual. Healthcare entities must keep records of PHI disclosures. Information provided below, if completed properly, will constitute an adequate record.

NOTE: Uses and disclosures for TPO may be permitted without prior consent in an emergency.
